Introductory

ELLER'S
"PERFECT FIT"
CEILINGS

IT IS unnecessary for us to treat extensively as to the origination of our copyright name "PERFECT-FIT," as applied to metal ceilings that we manufacture. We have been manufacturing metal ceilings for the past twenty-six years, and during that time have given all criticisms received from our customers and erectors, not only at home, but abroad, every consideration; investigated fully their complaints, and devised immediate remedies for same. The complimentary remarks, as well as suggestions received, have also been carefully preserved in our record files, and at different periods have been gone over carefully by our expert designer, and new ideas worked therefrom, so as to give the consumer ceiling material as near perfect as possible. Our direct aim is architectural designs that would meet the requirements and harmonize properly with any mode of architecture that is employed in the building where metal ceiling is to be used; simplicity in construction, which enables the erector to properly apply our ceiling, so that when erected the entire ceiling or side wall would harmonize properly with its surroundings.

We know that we have attained these results from the vast number of letters that we have received from the architects, builders and owners of buildings, and that we are rightfully entitled to apply to our metal ceilings, without contradiction, our copyright name "PERFECT-FIT."

Our metal ceilings are stamped from rehammered open hearth steel sheets, giving the best material of its kind that money can buy. All shipments are well crated, and triple checked before leaving our factory. Our aim is to ship every order the same day it is received, unless a blue-print and working plan is required, in which case there is a delay of twenty-four hours. All material is given a priming coat of our special "Meto" paint. We furnish FREE the necessary nails for applying the metal, also wood brackets for mould and cornices requiring same. In no instance do we furnish furring strips, unless specially ordered, for which an extra charge will be made.

Parties not having satisfactory rating will be given credit upon receipt of acceptable references; otherwise, cash to the amount of twenty-five per cent. (25%) must accompany the order; balance C.O.D.

BATH ROOM SPECIALTIES

SIDE WALLS AND CEILINGS

BE SANITARY

In order to do so, your Bath Room should be ceiled with our Metal Tiling, which, when placed in Bath Room complete and painted properly with enamel paint, can be washed and cleansed the same as marble, slating or any other more expensive Bath Room finish.

This material can be fitted to any room, no matter how irregular in shape.

The Bath Room material is composed of the three different size tilings as shown on page 159; No. 2602 or 2603 being used mostly for side wall pattern, No. 2601 for wainscoting, using baseboard No. 2606, mould to finish top of wainscoting No. 2605, and mould No. 2604 to finish at ceiling line; or the position of the plates may be changed to suit the taste of the customer. See illustration on page 89.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS For Erecting Eller's "Perfect-Fit" Metal Ceilings and Side Walls

One of the essential features in the erecting of Metal Ceilings and Side Walls is the proper application of furring strips. In order to assist the Erectors in properly starting and also simplifying their work so that there will be no possible error made in the application of our Ceilings and Side Walls, we furnish with each Ceiling or Side Wall a blue print or working plan. On the blue print for Ceilings you will note the starting line plainly marked thereon. This is the point from which the Erector should lay out and locate his furring strips. Great care should be taken that the furring strips are placed so as to come directly over the side and end joints of ceiling material; also on each side of moulds, borders, fillers and cornice, as may be indicated by the sectional drawing shown on blue print.

We furnish sufficient wood brackets for all moulds and cornices, to be used only underneath the end joint of each section of mould or cornice, so that same can be drawn down perfectly in place.

Having placed your furring strips correctly, as per the instructions given, you will then apply the metal, starting from the center at rear of room, and working to each side and towards the front until the entire field is properly in place. The cove or cornice should then be nailed at the foot of cornice on Side Walls, leaving the upper part of cornice loose; the top of cornice to be nailed only after the filler has been properly put in place.

The above rules will also apply to the application of Side Walls, except where metal wainscoting may be used, in which case the wainscoting must be applied first and the Side Wall material finished to same. All cornices for which we furnish mitres, also all moulds for which we furnish ells, tees and crosses, are illustrated and mentioned in our catalogue.

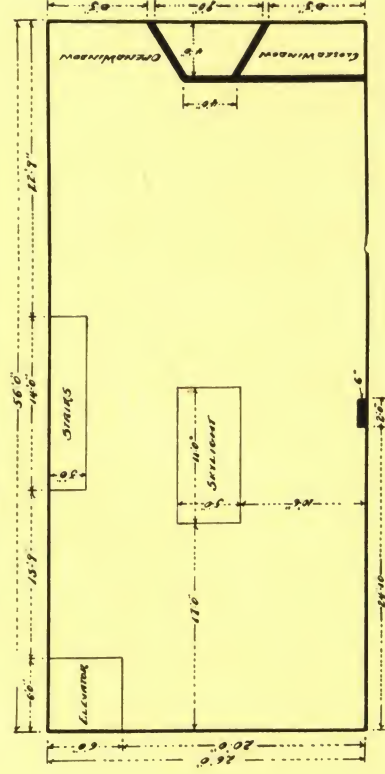

The size of furring strip which we would advise using is $\frac{3}{4}$ inch x $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches.

Should you be erecting ceiling on an old building, do not remove the plaster, but proceed with your furring the same as above.

A great many of our ceiling designs can be used without furring strips, where you have a flat board surface to cover.

The great care which we take in the manufacture of our ceilings, all being properly trimmed and re-squared, entitles us to claim for our ceilings the name which you find on our catalogue and all other literature pertaining to same, which is "PERFECT-FIT."

MEASUREMENT INSTRUCTIONS

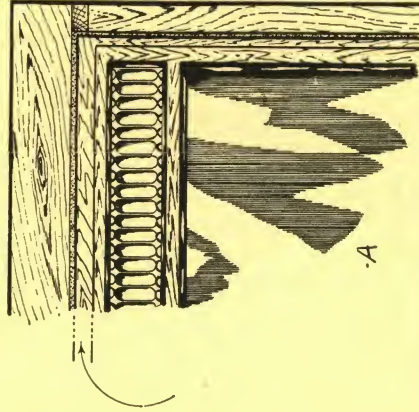

It is not necessary for you to make a scale drawing. All we require is a pencil sketch similar to the above, and should any offsets or projections appear in the surface that you wish ceiled, be careful to locate the offsets properly, and also give width of projection. Should there be a skylight, kindly give size of opening, also the distance it may be from side wall and end wall. Should it be for a store building, give all measurements of front of store, stating whether the front windows are cased windows as shown in one side of our sketch, or open windows as shown in the other. This enables us to work our designs out properly, so that when ceiling is erected you will have a perfect and complete job.

If the above instructions are carried out, there will be no question but what the material we furnish you will work out correctly and fit your room properly.

Should there appear in ceiling any "I" beams, it will be necessary that you give us the depth from ceiling line to face of "I" beam, also the face measurement of "I" beam and the correct distance that these beams are placed from front or side of building.

Figure No. 2 represents a window. The arrow point is to draw your attention to the space between top of window and ceiling line. It is necessary that you inform us the distance between the top of window and ceiling line, so that we may know what particular cornice or moulding to use over same in order to work out properly.

Can Cornice Be Used in Front Between Windows and Ceiling?
